MESS STEWARD TERRIE WINS HONOR MEDAL

"Straightened Cut a Mess That Was A Mess." Says Capt. Odoll.

" He Gave, Us, The Hets, " Say Boys

Tuesday, March 28th, 1935. Today, by popular ballot of the members of the empany, Mess Steward Bill Torrie was scheated as the most cutstanding member of the camp for the past month of March. Capt. R. E. Odell, Commanding Officer, presented him with the medal. The event was heightened by hacrty applause.

Terric, a blushing beauty, through the performance, -- (and late for the presentation, ## a la Jimmy Walker) said little except that he would try to do his best in the feeding of the company.

Capt. Odell, in presenting the medal praised Terrie highly, and also said, "Terrie is chiefly responsible for straightening out a mess that was a real ress."

The boys agreed," He's the guy that feeds us. "

The medal was awarded on the basis of neatness, personal apperance, behaviour, and performance of duties.

GREATNESS# IS ACHEIVED THROUGH

By Leon Lloyd, Assistant C.E.A.

Education is individual. Education is not a set period of scheduled study. Nor classes. Nor a school system. It is not the learning of a tremendous number of facts. Nor reading books. All of these things may help im acheiving an education but neither collectively or individually do they comprise and education. Education is progressive. Education is life itself:— but only life unfolding in its proper channel. And to the utmost of its expressiveness in that channell.

Although the above sounds pedantic, it is fact. You, who are to be discharged, should give it your serious attention. It means that you, no matter how much or how little academic training you have, are far from completing your education and that its proper attainment is directly within control of your own hands. It means that your whole life has been but an educational process, either postive or negative, -i.e. that your living has actually been progress toward knowledge or retrogression toward inane ignorance,

A man acheives success, riches and reward unto himself only in proportion to his usefulness to others. One is useful to others only through richness of ability. Education is but the proper cultivation and training of those abilities according to their ewn peculiar tendencies, so as to increase the usefulness of the individual. Such orientation and growth depends upon the iniative of the person, himself.

Everyone, more than likely, has had some experience with our system of schools and cumpulsory education. Regardless of the extent of this centact the problem of everyone is unchangeably the same, to select his own proper field and acheive the greatest possible success and happiness therein.

In selecting this field, consideration should be from the angle: "What vecation (Continued on Fage Two) will I be of the greatest use? In which will my inherent talents enable me to be of the greatest benefit?"For the field which you can select as an answer to that question is where you will reap the richest harvest.

This consideration does not limit by any means the choice you can make. Indeed it broadens the possibilities, from which you can choose. Perhaps, your greatest gift is the ability to make reorle laugh or smile, As raw material you may considor inconsequential. Among those who hafe developed this talent so its highest degree and were reichly revarded were Marie Drossler, Charlie Chapain, Harold Lloyd, Joo E. Brown, Nancy Carroll, Masu Pitts, Joan Blondell, - and others. Perhaus. all you have to offer is a simple thing, .. ability to speak impressively. Great orators] Haynes, Webster, Lincoln, stirred people with the fire, morning and action of their words and swept to great acheivement. Perhaps, it is only the ability to plan, direct and manage. Commercial ext. Euthics have gone far on such ability. On that one thing alone Rockefeller drove himself to the status of a multi-millionaire. When he started his climb to fortune all he had was a good bluff, ability to make plans and carry them out, and a five cent cigar (probably no good.) He made a million and more.

You may look cut on a world moving at a swift pace and say that all has been done, and like Alexander say that your fathers before you have done everything, there are no worlds left to conquer. Such dismay is foolish. There are countless things yet to be done. Man has been playing and but scratched the surface of acheivement.

The millions of tons of energy in the sunlight are walting someone to harness them, and put them to work. Crooker invented a tube, generally considered a scientific toy, that utilizes the sun for power, transforming it into motion. The most efficient gaseline motor wastes 90% of its fuel, simply because man's inventive genius has not yet been able to crush the atom and put the electronic energy stored away their to work, The man who does either of these things will become famous and rich beyond his dreams.

Radio is yet a baby. Doesn't static anncy you? The man who discovers a way to eliminate static and electrical interference completely will never have to worry about success. He will have attained.

Television, although scientifically perfected has not yet been commercially developed. There is a great possibility here for those who realize in advance its enertainment and educational possibilities.

In music the sweetest melodies have yet to be composed, -in art the greatest painting still awaits the man and the brush, - in poetry there is a wonderful opportunity for distinction. There are undiscovered poetic forms so beautiful they touch the hom of divinity. In fiction, if you have the ability to enertain, to make people laugh, to bend their deeper emotions, to make them think with mere words as your only tools, then you have a wealth of tho abilities that if you devlop will make you a great novelist, a producer of lasting literature. In the field of sports, new records are being set everyday. In the field of the movies, there is a billion dellar opportunity for a man with leadership and ideas, combined with the essential technical knowledge. The greatest picture is yet unproduced. Sound effects are clap-trapish now to what they will be when thinking people get through improving them. Color offects are far from the naturalness that they will eventually achoive. Lanyone who aids in the attainment of this exal will be handsomely regaid for their offort.

You may say that you have the ambition and the criginaltiy, but that you lack the training and the opportunity to gain it. Technical handicaps stand in the way of your acheivements. That is where you as an individual must stand (Continued in next column)

ETUCLTION IS INDIVIDUAL (Cont.) or talk. And where your real problem in prictical education lies. You must not only chasse the foal, you must discover the means of attaining it. You must be willing to take a scratchy foothold at the bottom and work up. You must center your spare time and your spare money upon precuring those things that will enable you to obtain the essential technical knowledge. You must forget good times, and in the face of others enjoyment, grit your teeth and dig into your studies. You must live, dream and breathe your goal, your ambition,-carry it ever on your mind, - sacrifice for it, and you will attain it.

That is practical education. Whether you obtain it in shop, in the woods, in a factory, or by individual reading and study or experimentation, it is the only step by step method that gives amy assurance of helping one to success. With the attainment of your first major success in your line will come the satisfaction of acheivement, and creation, and pleasure constantly in your work. With success goes the rearing applause of the crowd, (lovable bouquets) and the means to obtain your hearts desires, and to live as near as possible the life you want.

Bill Terric thought the air was fine the other night at the dance, so # he left the dancehall quite a few times to drink it in. What is the best chaser , Bill??????????????????????

Bill Stewart vaited twomhours in front of the theatre Friday night for a certain young lady. And finaly got disgusted and paid his own way. Just a cigilo?????

Phil Noble is running out of L.K. s (and why shouldn't he?), -- are there any welunteers? Cne has already answercd this S.O.S. call, Thoras Yelvington (I only speak to $45,00 men) who does enough for a dozen,

A more troublesome puzzle than the Gordian knot is trying to figure out what nationality Karl Fortess and James Wilbur are. They talk like bloody Englishmen ( have a cup to tay) , but they act more like Scothhmen (tight).

Karl Fortess has quite a talent fer writing leve letters for the boys . When Jirmy Wilbur receives his answer we will all know just how good Karl really is ..... He cally charges ten cents a linc/d/d/d/....$$$$$$$$$ (But you'd better hurry and take advantage of this bargain boys, as Karl is departing on the merrow.)

It is really true that Karl Forts ess, our much loved and brilliant artist is not going to stay with us another six menths. Everyone will miss Karl, his acrid humor, his brilliant conversation ( It was so sharp, so sorhisticated, se brittle, that it crackled like cellophane) , and his paints and brushes. Among those who will weep, and there will be many, it is an irreproachable fact, that Bud Fox, who loved out Karl so dearly, will exude the largest tears with unconcealed, Karl has been here unshamed, sorrew. for some time, but will in leaving take with him one of the most coveted honors of the carry, - champion rock player. ## WE BELIEVE IN MIRACLES By Tom Bornman

We believe in miracles after watching the following things happen during the past week:

(1) Bud Fox (yeah, actually locsened up a nickel's worth) bought Tom Borrman a Pepsi-Cola.

(2) Bill Reddick finaly got a date in Lake City.

(3) Dewitt Story stayed in camp two nights last week, one of which was Saturday.

(4) Red Thompson took a bath. In the lake.

(5) "Lefty" Zimmerran went to bed one night before the cooks got up.

(6) "Whitey "Frank Foil does his loving in a ditch.

(7) Leon Lloyd sat in the balcony Sunday night with no objections.

(8) An enrollee got a date with one of the school teachers.

(9) The Ocean Pond Woodsman is a day late this week.

(10) Monk "Daydreaming" Richardson thought he saw a mermaid in the lake # andd dove in after her.

The Horselaugh

Philip Fernandez and Chink ...brreu fell mighty hard for a certain little orchestra leader.

Karl Fortess was greatly astonished when asked to sit in the balcony.

"Karl Fortess is good at borrowing money, - boys try and collect?" Who was it made this nasty crack???

The boys of Barracks 4 wonder how George Davis comes in bright and early with lipstick on his mouth and face. We wish to remind George that the reredy for this tell tale condition is Kissproof lipstick.

Mike Nanowsky pats himself on the back for informing Bill Stewart that he must respect the M.P. in town.

One of the pea ( or bean ) boys, Ermest King has bought a watch for thirty-five cents, so he can keep better track of the moments between how.

Mornan Mitchell has his tongue split for better service.

Allan Corbitt has applied for a job with Ringling Bros. circus using a shovel around the elephant stables.

Our 1st Sgt. turns out to be nothing but a soft sopp sentimentalist. He twied up a fog at the show when the drama mellowed in "Wicked Woman" last night. Mellow drama, -mellow, juicy tears**Trom the Sarge. Have Ochon, the nightingale of Co. 451, consiming to emoon in Epanish to the thirming erow as they go through the metions at lunch time.

Wee still wonder how Adrian Kaze gets all those phatures of beautiful girls and still remains as shy as he is.

Riding invo rown on the school trucks to see the picture show, was, about two months ago a powdar camp sport. It has become increasingly precarcious since the boys have found that failure to attend classes means getting left in town and doing a beck of a lot of extra duty.

Newlit Story "spazzled" one of Lefty's ribd the other day. He doesn't like Bubber's type of failure-proof alarm cleuk. It swakens him too rudely.

The Assistant Educational Adviser now has his own private, air-conditioned office in the Recreation Hall. The library, books and magazines, is located there; also the games such as ping-pong, checkers, etc.

Loon Lloyd was on the receiveing end of the latest fashion in soda feuntain service a la Lake City mode. Ordering a cherry dope, imagine his amazement when he was very cheerfully given two; -- one to drink and the other dumped in his lap, spilling all ocer everywhere.

Who is the pingpong champion? Lambert, Wilks, Van Milton. Zirmerman, Lloyd, Robt. Weldon and Sardinas are the main ones who indulge in chasing and spatting the expanded, about to explode, aspirin tablet.

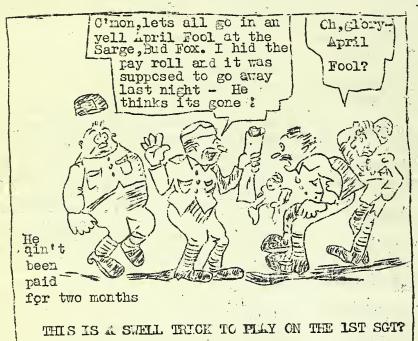

Story says that when (and if,-personally we all think he'll get a CCC funeral) he ever gets out of the CCC, he will have to be fed beans three times a day, or he'll get sick. Claims his system has gotten acclimated, organized and adjusted, to beans and a change would be fatal. Well, who the h---l asked him to stay here and eat beans with us anyway?

James Wilbur should either become a sai saint or receive the accolade. For he is quite noble. It develops that his bridge-work was just and excuse for not kissing a fair maiden the night of the dance. It seems the girl was Lambert's; and fully conscious of the magnetic, irresistible, passionate power of his own caresses, he did not want to take Lambert's girl away from him.

That Barefoot boy with shoes on has qui quit K.P.. so as to have more time with Anniebelle, -- says Popeye.

It has recently been heard that Brown is giving Monk Richardson a grand rush over at the Box's. --- Zat So :

These cartoons were adapted to local situations and chareters by Leon Lloyd from the very humorous wartime cartoons of Abian A. Wallgren for the official newspaper of the L. EF F., "The Stars and Stripes" We hope that you read them and enjoy them, for they come from the penish of one of the most versatile of interpetatvic cartoonists. He was as capricious as spring weather, - it is told of him, that Wally as all the boys affectionately called him, upon being confined with loss of one months pay for disregarding rules spent the time in drawing and selling picture post cards and made more money than the General.
